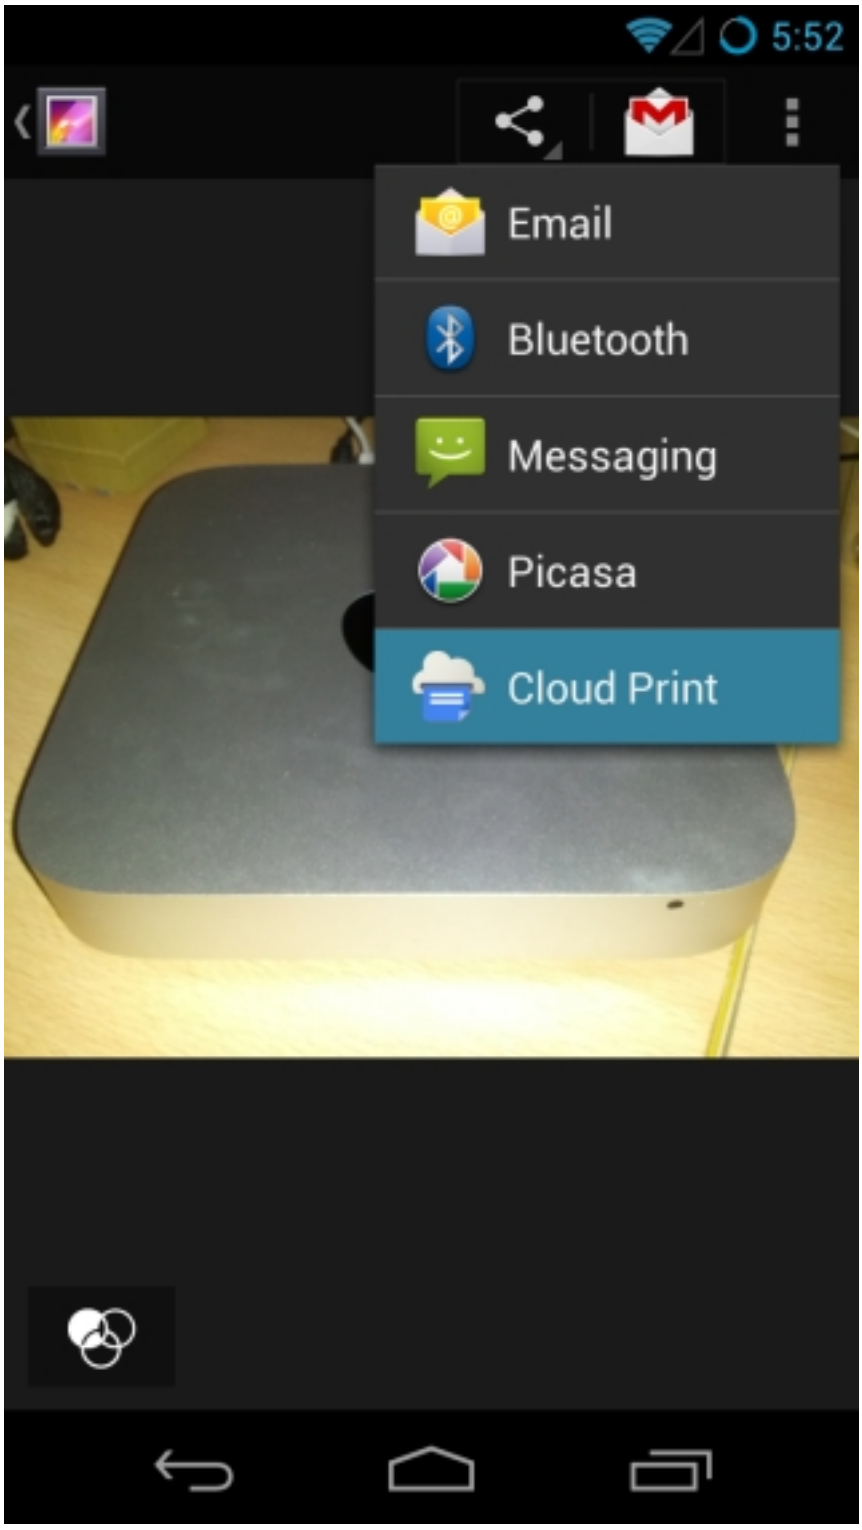
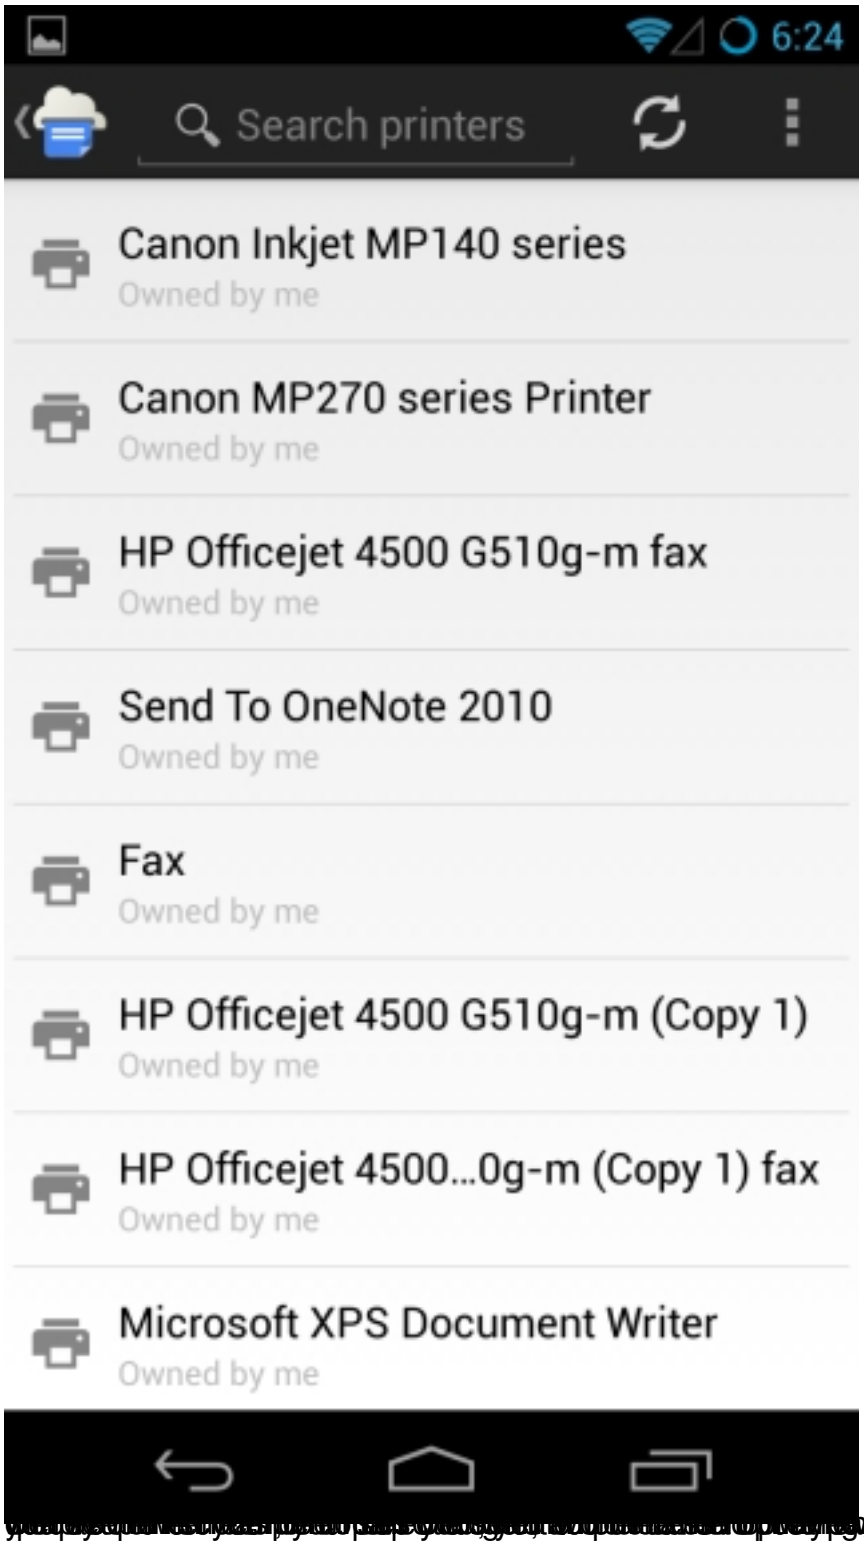
Printers are one of the most useful computer peripherals around, but they're also, quite possibly, one of the most frustrating to configure. Then there are also the problems of managing multiple printers on a network, and making sure they are all running fine and ready to accept print jobs. Google, however, has made printing considerably simpler with Google Cloud Print that has been available in Google Chrome across desktop, iOS and Android. Though if you want to print something outside Chrome from your Android device, the new Cloud Print app that has just debuted on the Google Play Store will take care of that. The app allow you to print anything from documents to photos from your Android device.

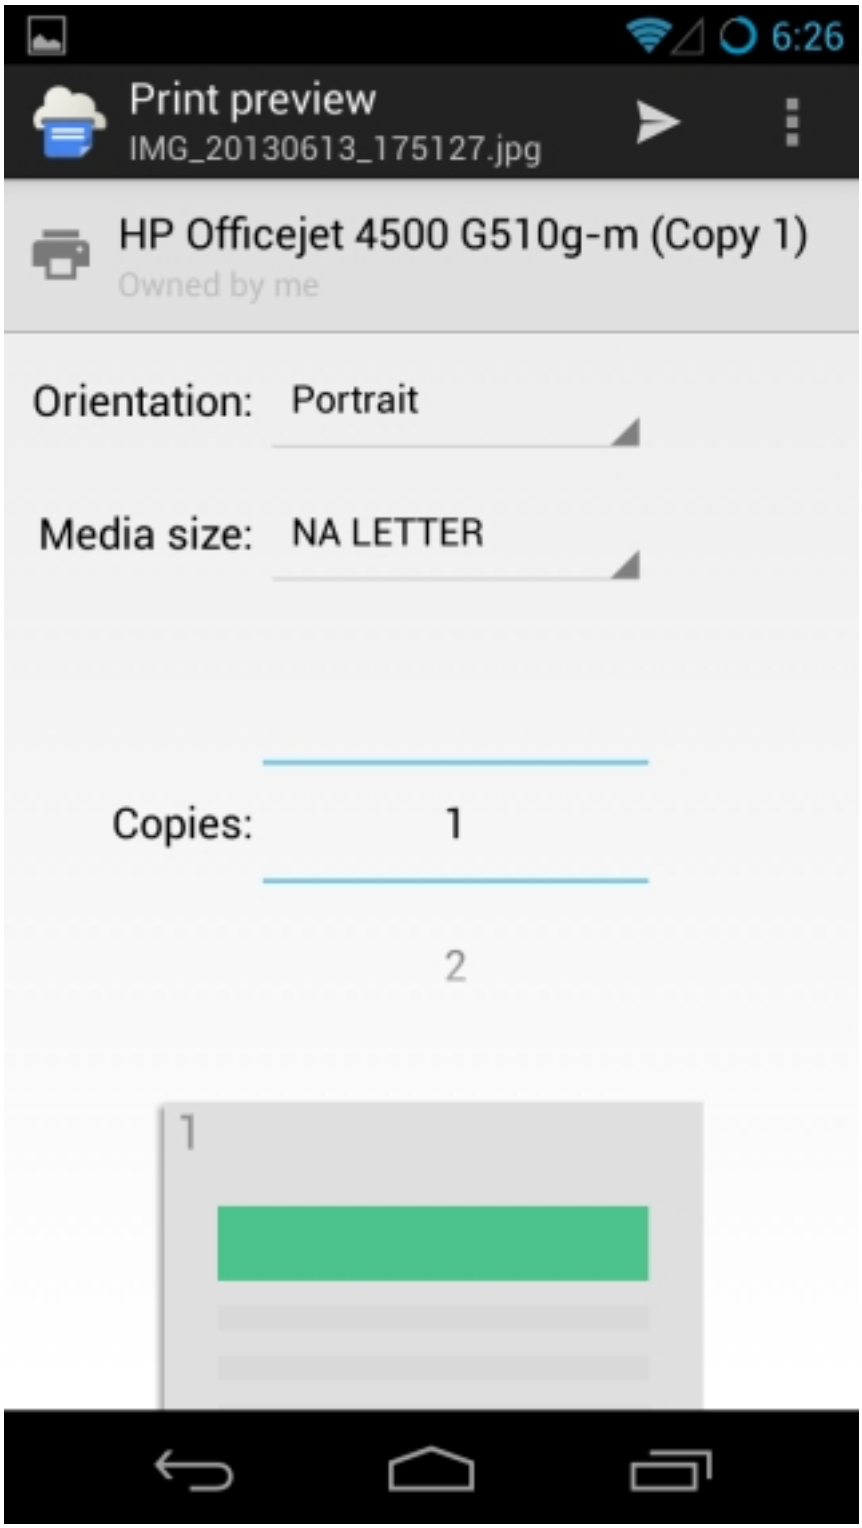
Once installed, the Cloud Print app will show up as one of the options under the 'Share' menu. Just open whatever you want to print and select the Cloud Print option from the Share menu, and you will switch to the app itself (pretty much like adding an attachment to an email). The first thing you must do is select which printer you want to print from. Users of Google Cloud Print will know that both cloud printers and classic printers can be added to your Google account, and the list of printers you see will include both. An alternative way of printing files is to tap the printer icon in Cloud Print and select the files you want to print.



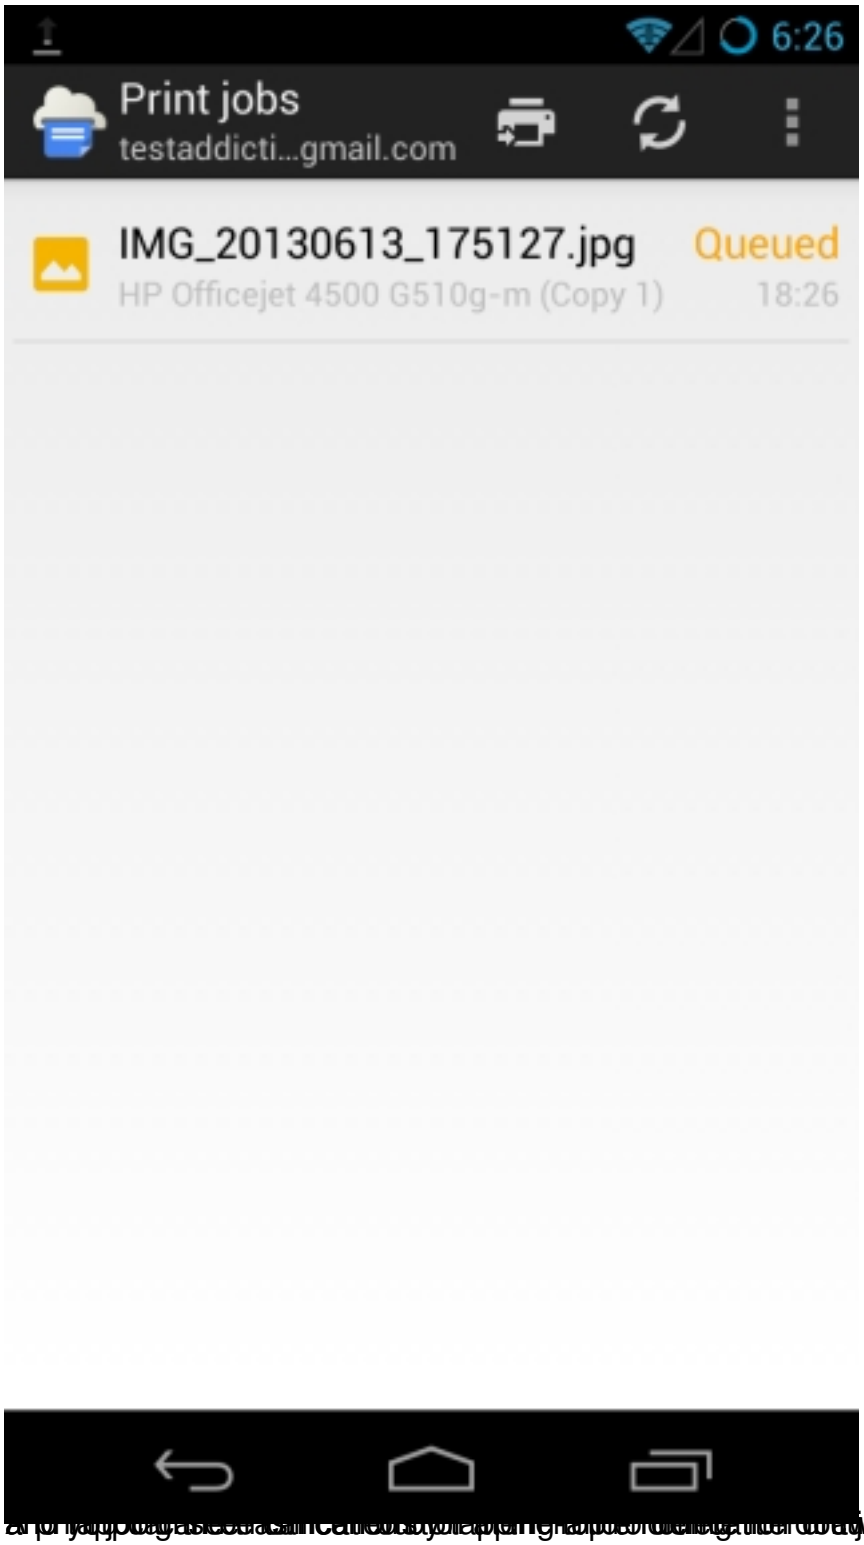
5:52
Email
Bluetooth
Messaging
Picasa
Cloud Print



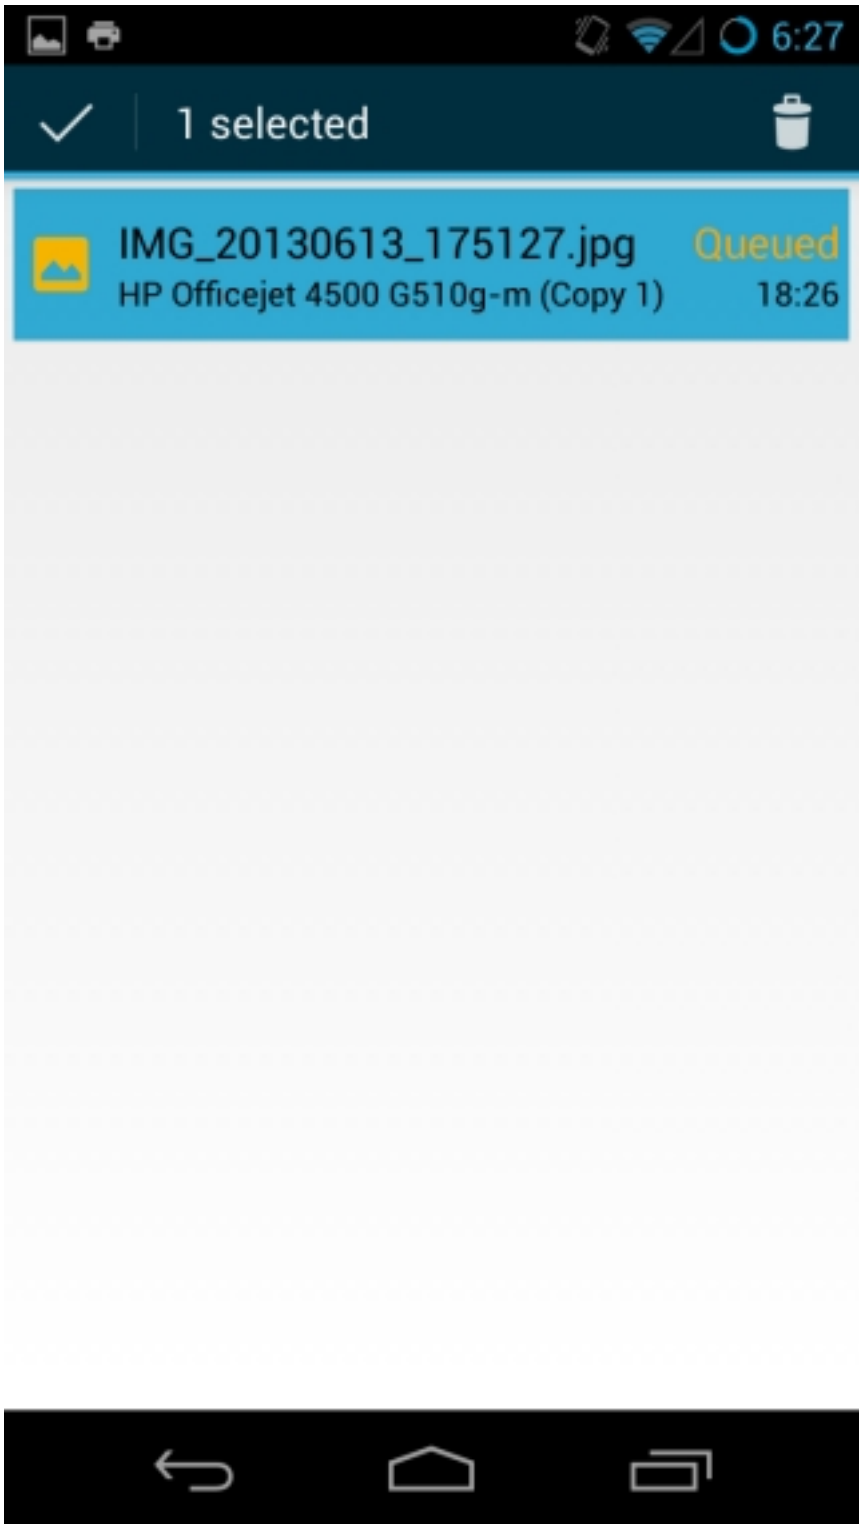
6:24
Search printers
Canon Inkjet MP140 series
Owned by me
Canon MP270 series Printer
Owned by me
HP Officejet 4500 G510g-m fax
Owned by me
Send To OneNote 2010
Owned by me
Fax
Owned by me
HP Officejet 4500 G510g-m (Copy 1)
Owned by me
HP Officejet 4500…0g-m (Copy 1) fax
Owned by me
Microsoft XPS Document Writer
Owned by me



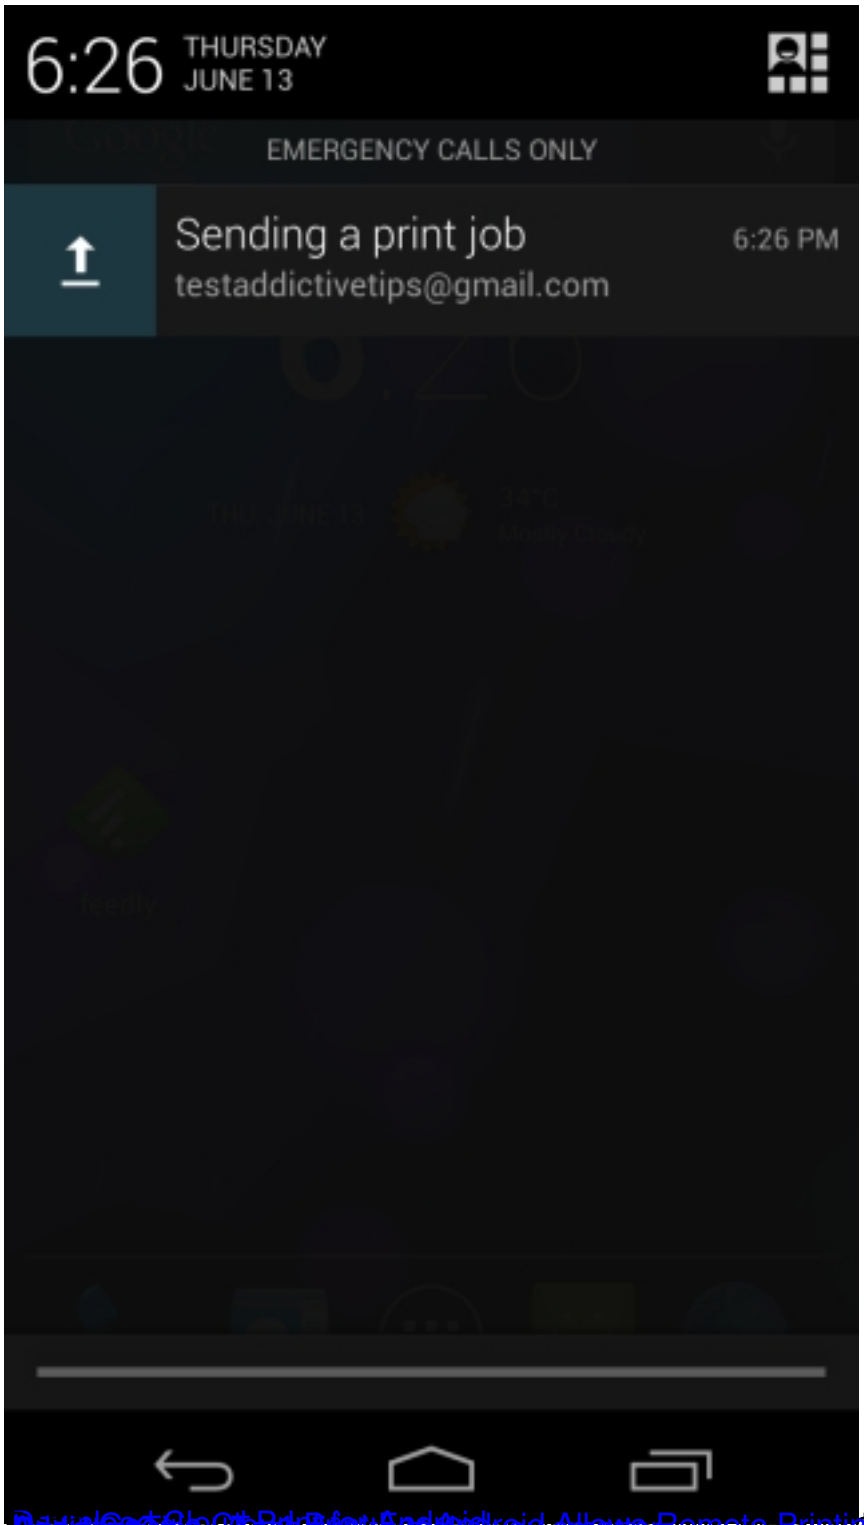
6:26
Print preview
IMG_20130613_175127.jpg
HP Officejet 4500 G510g-m (Copy 1)
Owned by me
Orientation:
Portrait
Media size:
NA LETTER
Copies:
1
2
1



6:26
Print jobs
testaddicti...gmail.com
IMG_20130613_175127.jpg
Queued
HP Officejet 4500 G510g-m (Copy 1)
18:26



6:27
1 selected
IMG_20130613_175127.jpg
Queued
HP Officejet 4500 G510g-m (Copy 1)
18:26



6:26
THURSDAY
JUNE 13
EMERGENCY CALLS ONLY
Sending a print job
6:26 PM
testaddictivetips@gmail.com

[illegible] in