

Although video streaming is not something new, bringing it to mainstream by (the now-Google-owned) YouTube was nothing short of a tour de force. The company executed a brilliant idea of how we can share multimedia content with other folks around the globe. Back in July 2010, we covered an incredibly useful software that downloads video streams for offline viewing

. Labeled

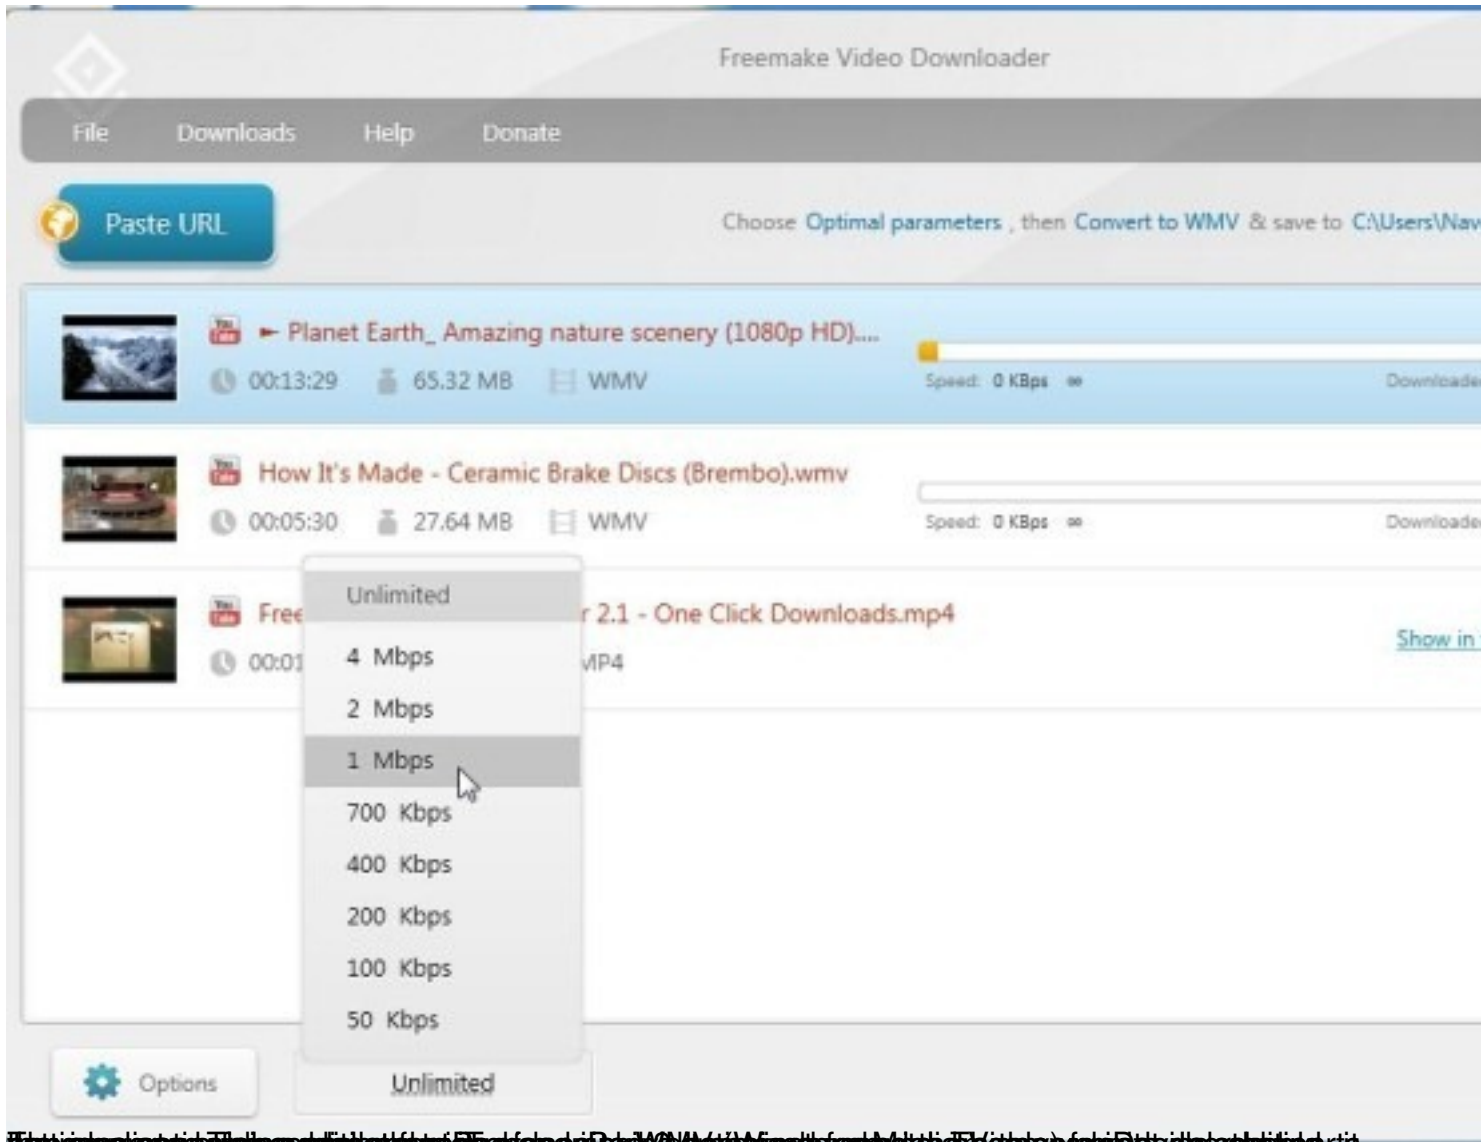

Freemake Video Downloader

, the application would let you instantly download videos from plentiful video streaming websites. The application packs some punchier features, such as one click download, video conversion to other formats, eye candy interface and so on, which makes it one of the best streaming media downloaders around. It's been quite a while since we first reviewed it, and it has come a long way since then, introducing new options and bug fixes with incremental updates. The developers recently let out another updated version (3.1) of Video Downloader, which has added some promising new features (some which I had always craved for). A quick look at the change log and thorough testing revealed the following additions.

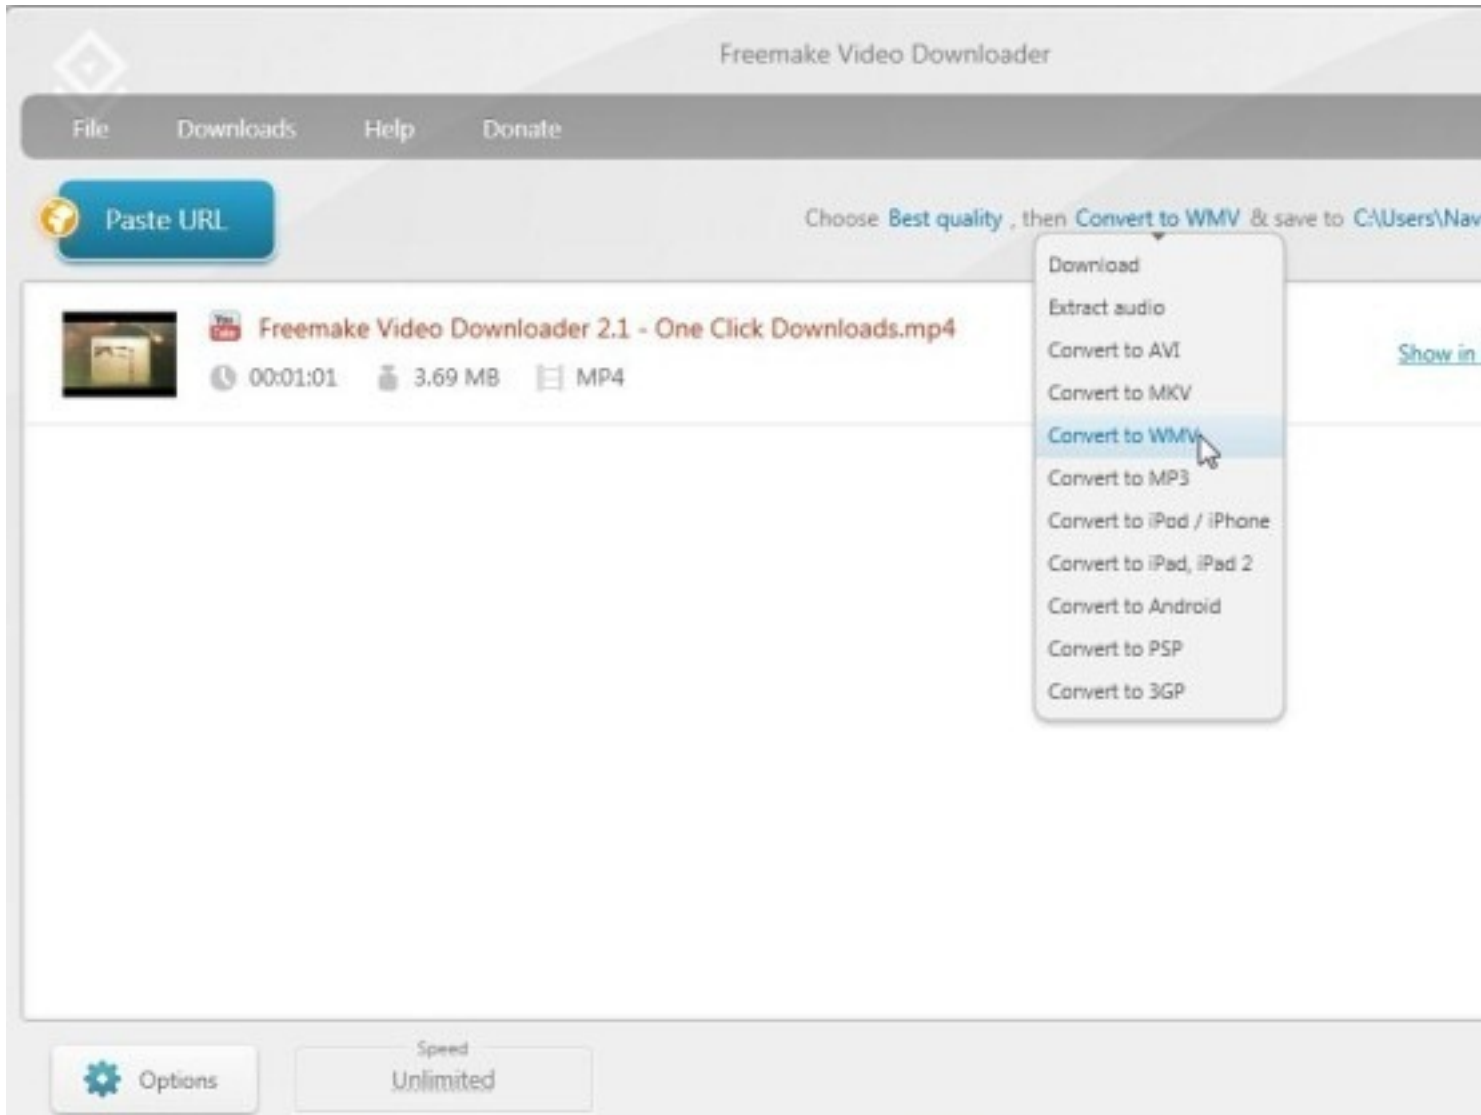

During installation, Freemake Video Downloader tries to install TuneUp Utilities 2012 along with the main package. You can however decline the offer by unchecking it during the setup process.

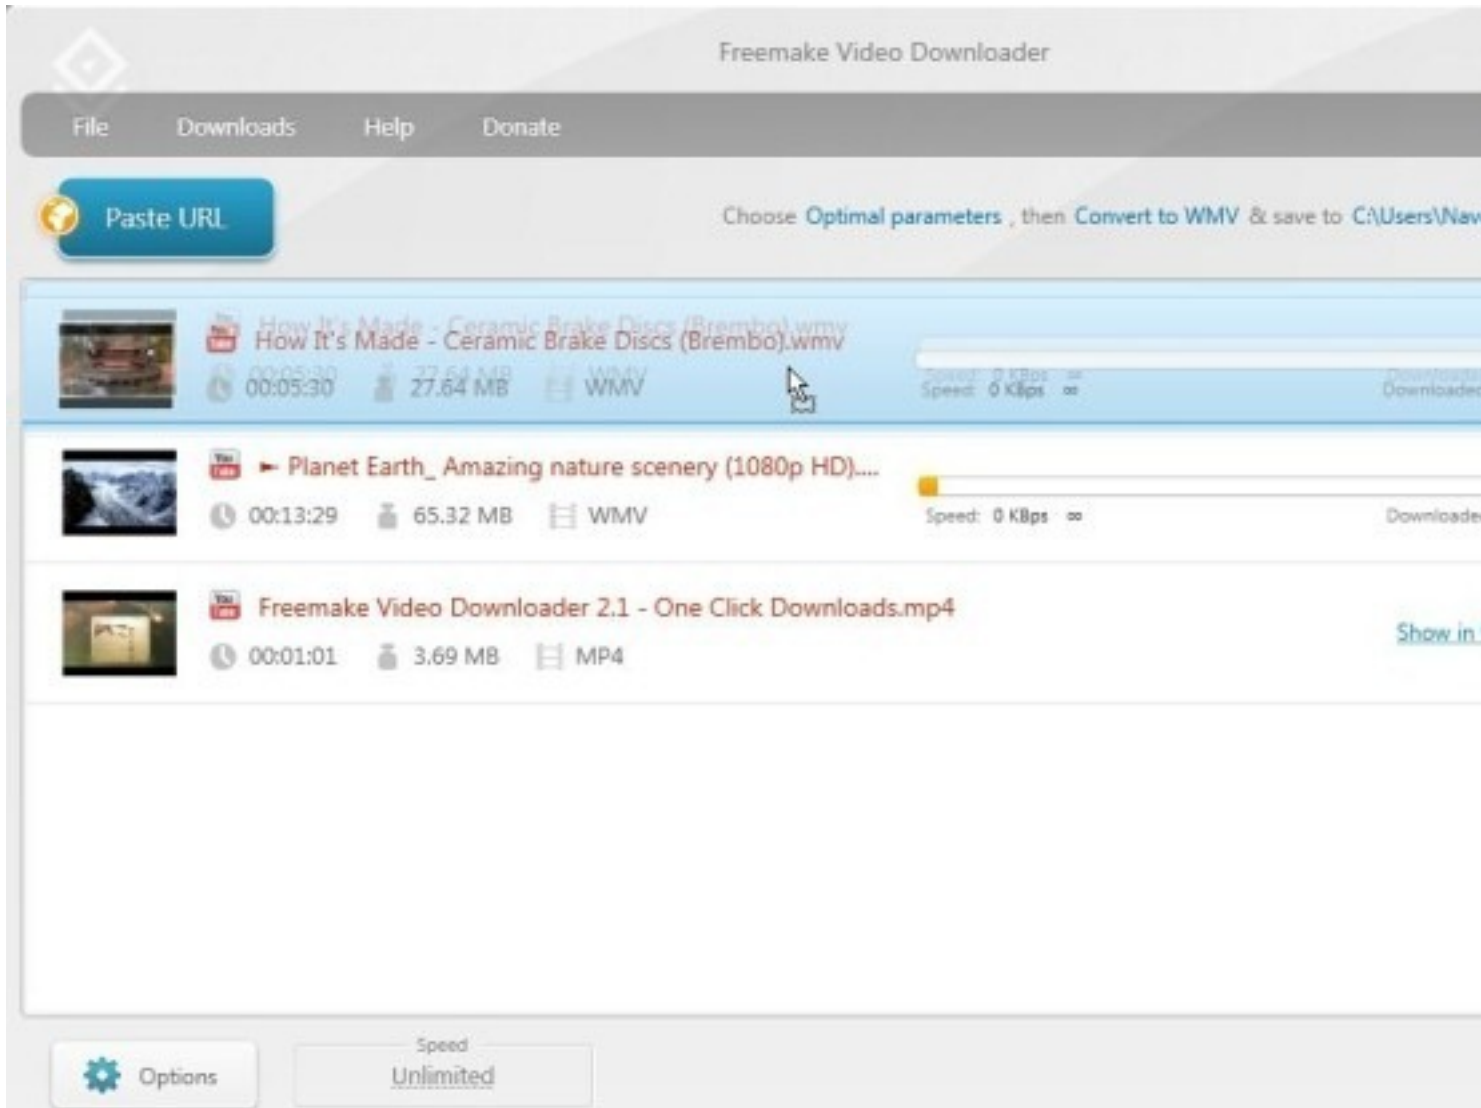

Freemake Video Downloader is a free software that helps you download videos from YouTube, Facebook, and other video sharing sites. It is a simple and easy-to-use application that can be used on Windows XP, Vista, and 7. The software is available for free download from the Freemake website.

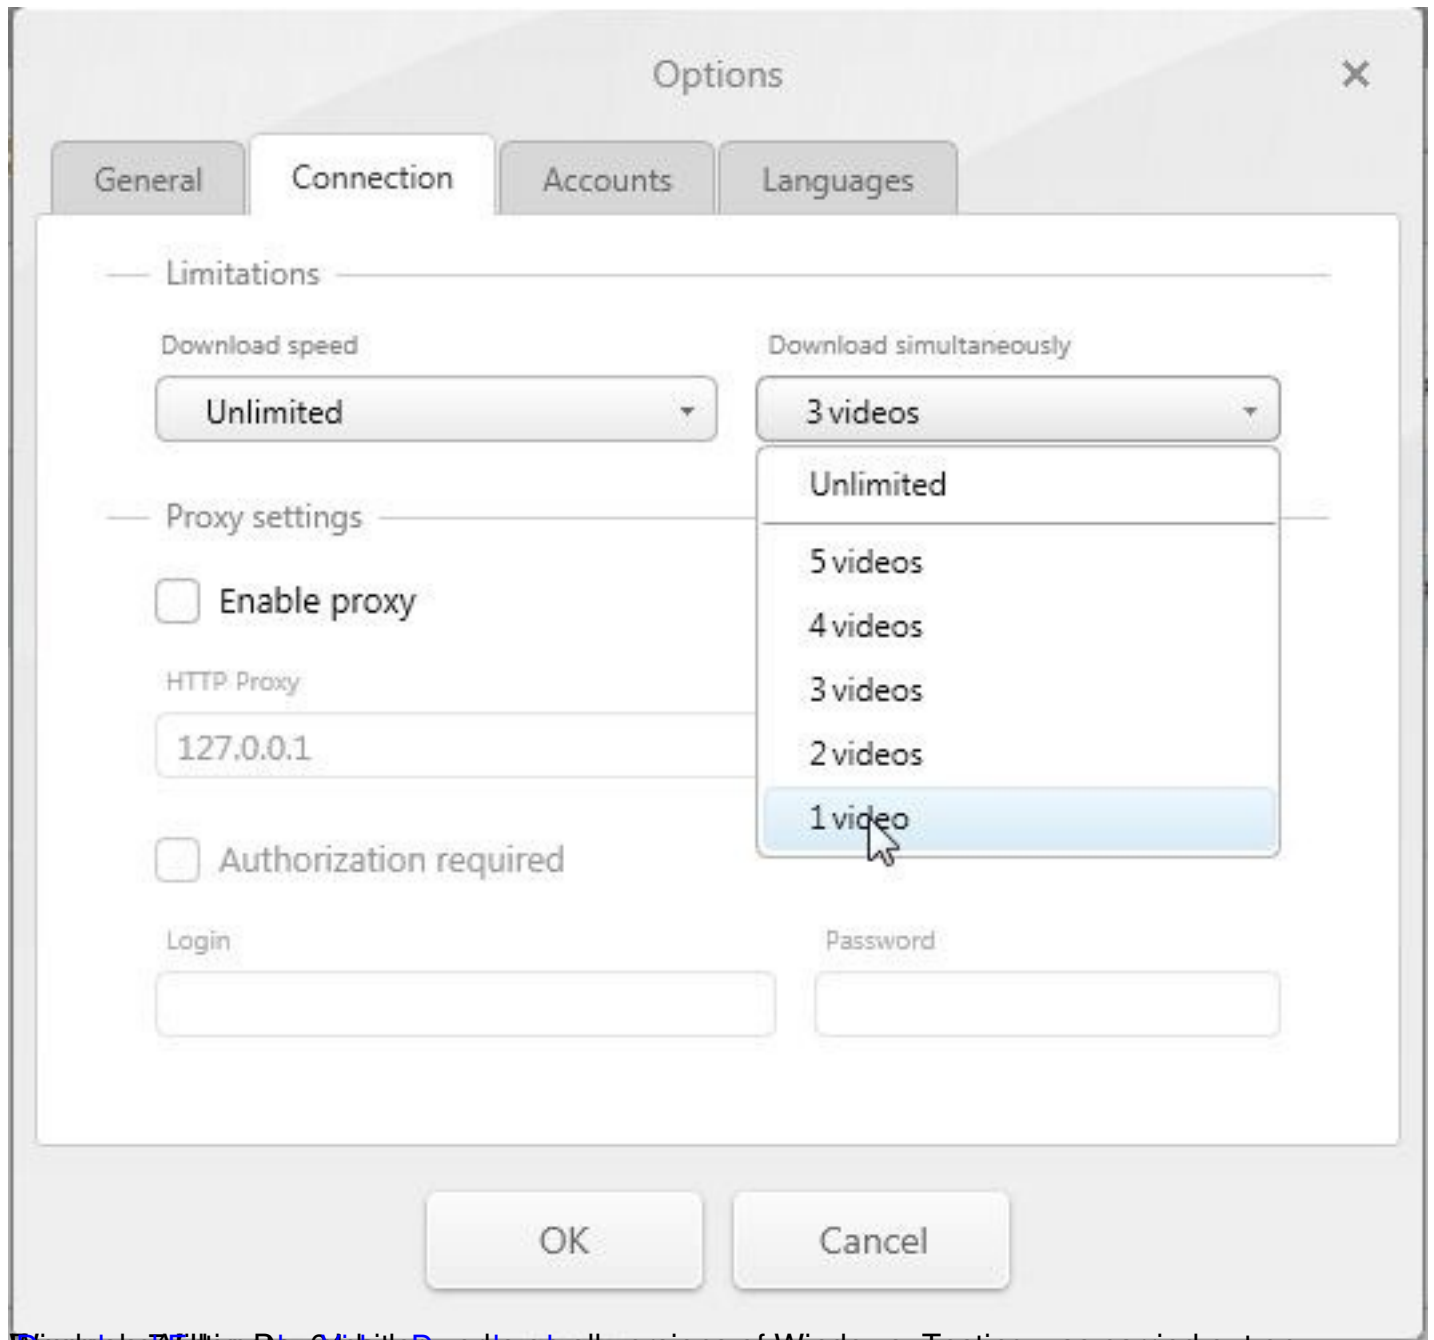

Freemake Video Downloader adds download queues, speed control native iPad conversion

To avoid download of the list videos at the same time, you can use the download queue by dragging it

Users can also set the total number of connections that should be downloaded simultaneously. This Download Video Downloader works on all versions of Windows. Testing was carried out on Windows 7, Vista, XP, Mac OS X, Linux, and Android.

Related Articles:

1. Download And Convert Videos With FreeMake Video Downloader
2. Kastor All Video Downloader – Download Videos From Video Sharing Sites And Convert Them
3. 4K Video Downloader – Download Online Videos Or Extract MP3 Audio From Them

Read more